

ANTROPOVARIUS LOUNGE CHAIR BY FERDINAND ALEXANDER PORSCHE FOR POLTRONA FRAU

Antropovarius reclining lounge chair designed by Ferdinand Alexander Porsche for Poltrona Frau, Italy 1982. The chair was designed in collaboration with the Institute for Ergonomics at Munich University and features a series of 'spine' elements that are adjustable to provide comfort and support. The chair reclines using a side joystick lock-and-release mechanism. Constructed from steel, carbon fiber and PVC, and features original orange leather upholstery.

About Ferdinand Alexander Porsche: nicknamed "Butzi", son of Ferry Porsche, grandson of Ferdinand Porsche, was a German designer whose best known product was the first Porsche 911. While his grandfather and father were both engineers, he was more involved in working out the appearance of a product.

SKU: LU832830152322 | Categories: Seating | Tags: Ferdinand Alexander Porsche

GALLERY IMAGES

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Style	Post Modern (of the period)
Date of Manufacture	1980's
Sold As	Individual item
Materials and Techniques	Carbon Fiber, Leather, PVC, Steel
Place of Origin	Italy
Period	1980 - 1989
Condition	Good - Wear consistent with age and use. Excellent vintage condition with minor wear from age and use.

